I am pursuing a Master's Degree in Interactive Media Technology at KTH in Stockholm. With hands-on experience in UX/UI design, I am eager to further develop my skills and immerse myself in this dynamic and evolving field. My goal is to create impactful solutions that foster inclusivity and simplify life for people from all backgrounds.

Experience

UX/UI Designer intern

SmartX Solutions

July 2023 – September 2023

SmartX is leading IT company, based in Hungary, delivering middleware and frontend solutions for the financial industry.

I was chosen for their junior UX designer programme from a pool of applicants after successfully navigating through multiple rounds of assessments. Throughout this programme, I individually handled the UX/UI aspect of the project, albeit with the support of my senior colleagues. This experience not only provided me with valuable theoretical and practical knowledge but also enhanced my management and teamwork skills.

Web Content Specialist

_VOIS Vodafone Intelligent Solutions

October 2022 - April 2023

During the third year of my studies, I undertook a part-time position at VOIS, which is responsible for delivering digital and marketing solutions for Vodafone. In this role, I designed user journeys, conducted user interviews, and analyzed testing data to enhance digital products. I collaborated with senior colleagues on product strategies and gained foundational experience in JavaScript, HTML, CSS, and SEO.

Search Engine Evaluator

 TELUS International AI Data Solutions
2022. april -

I work remotely and flexibly as a freelance search engine evaluator, where I assess the relevance and quality of search engine results. My role involves analysing user behaviour and search patterns to improve search algorithms and understand user expectations for specific queries or situations.

Sales & front door

 Déréné Bistro
June 2020 – July 2021

Déréné Bistro is one of Budapest's premier high-end restaurants, where I mastered the art of hospitality, learning that every detail counts. My role involved managing the reservation system, organizing partner events, overseeing the restaurant's social media, and assisting with sales tasks during the close-down. My strong performance earned me recognition, leading to increased responsibilities, including supervising other employees.
